Grand Festival at Jerseytown.

On last Saturday evening the people of erseytown and vicinity held a festival in good citizen. We wish him succes in his Kreamer's grove, near the M. E. church, proceeds to pay for an organ for the M. E. Church. It was the largest and most orderly festival ever held in this vicinity. The amount of money realized was $137, leaving a net profit of $110. Various innocent means were resorted to, such as $765 guess pie, letter box, necktie and grab bag, a contest box for a cake, at 5 cents a vote, for Rey. Bruce Hughes and Rev. G. A. Marr. The amount secured was $19.23 for the cake-one lady having growing other vegetables. $14.06 the other $5.17, thus Rev. Marr takes the cake. The ice cream was made on the grounds by Charles Decker of Bloomsburg, and was pronounced by all to be most delicious. The young ladies and gentlemen, together with the older citizens, performed their parts most admirably and filled the bill, waiting on the immense crowd, dishing out the ice cream &c. Special mention is made of the gents children of St. Paul's Episcopal Sunday who sold confectionery, thus realizing $40.00. All things passed off nicely.

TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF COLUMBIA

Yours Democratically. U. H. ENT. Bloomsburg, Aug. 4, 1884. Anonymous Circulars.

The time has passed when the intelligent voters of this county can be influenced or leceived by circulars sent out a few days before the delegate election for the purpose of injuring the chances of any particular candidate. If signed by some responsible name, so that the public may know who issues them, they might be entitled to some consideration, but when circulated anonymously they should have no effect whatever. There are several objections to this mode of campaigning. It is unfair, because it gives the accused no opportunity to answer; it is cowardly, because the person who circulates them has not the courage to sign his name. We have seen a circular of this character ourporting to give the record of William Bryson in the Legislature. Four thousand of them were printed at a newspaper office that has never cast a Democratic vote. We know nothing about its accuracy, but everybody knows that if there is anything rooked about Mr. Bryson's record i could and should have been attacked months ago, instead of waiting until a few days before the election. The Legislature adjourned last November, nine months

The Columbian advocates the cause of no man in local politics, but when it sees manifestly unfair means adopted for the defeat of any candidate, it never hesitates to denounce such methods. It wants clean politics, and anonymous circulars issued on the eve of an election do not come un der this head. Mr. Bryson's chances now should be precisely what they were before this circular was printed.

John Beachem and Nathan Wetzel, or liberty township, went out to shoot woodcock, on Friday last. They had met with fair success in their sport and toward vening started to return home. As they passed by a big brush heap along one side of the road Wetzel noticed a monster garter snake crawling into the brush. He called his companion's attention to the fact, and they at once decided to kill it. Working their way into the brush they came across another big snake which, together with the first one seen, they killed. As they disposed of these yet another was seen making for the brush. After some trouble they dispatched this one also Each snake was as thick in the body as the upper part of a stalwart man's arm. They were females, and strange as it may appear, each one was full of young snakes. As soon as one of the old snakes was struck a host of young ones ran from her, and the total number of snakes killed was one hundred and fifty-fee. Thus each of the spakes averaged about fifty young. This may appear as "drawing the long bow," but the fact is well attested by those who have seen the dead serpents. This rather takes the cake, we think, for this season at least .- Danville Sun.

GETTING RED HOT. WILLIAM REICKBAUM CHARGED WITH VIOL

HIS ANSWER TO THE CHARGE.

APPIDATEL OF TAMES E. WEIRWAY

STATE OF PENNSYLVANIA, 1 HS Before me the subscriber, a Justice of the Peace in and for said County, personally came James K. Weirman of Benton, said County, who made the following affidavit,

"That during the month of September, A. D. 1883, William Krickbaum of Bloomsburg, approached me with reference to his candidacy for Prothonotary and earnestly solicited my support for the nomination asked them whether it would be advisable for me to encourage said Krickbaum in of electioneering, and I was advised to following explicit denial pursue such a course. "This course having been advised and determined upon, I gave said Krickbaum to understand that he should receive my support. As soon as I promised said Krickbaum my support he asked me whether it would not be advisable to use some money to exert an influence for said Krickbaum in that part of the county where I live, and, wanting to see how far said Krickbaum might go in his disreputable methods, I answered, 'yes.'

"During said month of September I was serving as a Grand Juror at Bloomsburg. and received from said Krickbaum the sum of fifteen dollars to be used for electioneering purposes : and from that time to the present, at various times, have received from five to ten dollars, for the purpose of influencing votes for said Krickbaum, at the same time keeping my friends posted as to his plans in the upper end of the county, and using all the power I could, under the circumstances, to prevent said Krickbaum from gaining a foothold in Benton and vicinity. The last money I got from him was on Monday, July 21st, 1884, when I received the sum of five dollars. The day before Krickhaum wrote to me as follows

BLOOMSBURG, JULY 19th, 1884. Mr. James Writman, Dear Sir:—I wish you would come down on Monday and stay over night. Come if you can. Important matter to be looked after.

"On Sunday, July 20th, I went to Bloomsburg, and on that day I received from said Krickbaum five dollars, and on the following day five dollars. I have received in all from said Krickbaum about one hundred and seventy-five dollars since last September; each time I received the money from him I was instructed by said Krickbaum to do with it all I could for said Krickbaum's nomination for Prothon.

The course I have pursued has not been a pleasant one to me, but having once entered the field to unearth said Krickbaum's corrupt and degrading practices I have been determined from the beginning to keep it up till the last, and as the campaign is now about closed, my unpleasant task is ended, and before God and man I here submit and substantiate by affidavit the result of my efforts, hoping that all those who have seen my actions and impugned my motives for making what appeared to be an alliance with said Krickjority of Democrats in their determined march for the victory they will achieve in the overthrow and downfall of Krickbaum

The best game of ball ever played in Berwick was witnessed by a large crowd of people last Friday on the grounds below the mill, between the Bloomsburg Base Ball Association Club and the club of this place. The former took the bat, and neither side scored a run until the fifth innings, when Woodhouse and Daniels touched the home plate. The Berwick's followed up with two more rans, which July 4th, by Rev. O. S. Metzler, Mr. J. B. were tied by their opponents on the last innings. The ending brought out the only glaring error in the whole game, in which three Berwick men get their bases. A short passed ball by the catcher then let Linville make the fourth run. This being all that was necessary, the game was closed without finishing the innings. Sherwood and West with the assistance of Daniels made a nice double play. Rhodomover caught a splendid line ball. Linville captured a "daisy" liner with one hand by jumping, and with his timely assistance to West made the second double play. The battery on both sides worked to perfection. Following is the score by innings :

Cambra, a little out-of-the-way townfar as Columbia county is concerned—is thriving little village. It lies about a quarter of a mile east of the county line it Luzerne; and is situated on an elevation at the junction of the Berwick and North Mountain turnpike, and Bloomsburg, Orangoville and Cambra state road, and in direct line from Benton to Shickshinny. It is surrounded by a good farming community and as a business centre is most convenient to the people of East Benton township. A more industrious and better class of citizens one could scarcely find. It contains a temperance house, well kept, tw Sessions of Columbia County, the District good stores, post office, physician, Justice of the Peace, a first-class undertaking cabinet and furniture store, blacksmit and wagon-maker shops, livery stable, shoemaker and millinery shops, two churches and a school in close proximity. Politically it is nearly equally divided, and both parties are very enthusiastic. During political campaigns the Wilkesbarre thun der strikes around there to an alarming extent. Altogether it is a lively place.

A full supply of dainties and a table groaning under the weight of its burden was waiting their return. At nine o'clock it was whis pered "they come," There was silence, and the lights turned down. As Mrs. Ashelman opened the door and stepped in, the lights were suddenly turned up. There she stood, in blank astonishment, face to face to the whole party and table, not knowing whether to laugh or cry. It was her forty-eighth birthday, and this pleasant entertainment was a successful surprise. Mr. Samuel Kase is very low with con-

THE BONES OF AN UNKNOWN MAN POUND POSTER ATTORNOUSES

A man named Michael Boylan, a resident of Teasdale City, was looking for young foxes Sunday afternoon at the foot of the high rocks along the road leading from Shickshinny to Wanamie. Under an overhanging crag, in sight of the road, b came upon the bleached skeleton of a man. fr. Boylan made known his discovery and quite a crowd collected. Mr. F. D. Yaple. who was returning from Nanticoke about this time, saw the bones, secured a knife, bunch of keys and a briar pipe and brough hem to town. On Monday it became known that the skeleton had been found and many conjectures and wild stories were set affoat as to who was the owner of he abandoned bones. In company with M. E. Walker, H. S. Clark and C. F. Stackhouse an Echo representative visited the spot to investigate.

The place is about two miles—back upon the mountain from the Mocanaqua breaker. When first found the bones were in their regular order with the shoes upon the feet, face upward. The only portion of the clothing recognizable was a piece of a soldier overcoat. The large and small army. buttons were confirming evidence that he wore a coat of that kind. Several large wore a coat of that kind. Several large buttons, such as are worn on drawers, and a small undershirt button were found among the decayed clothing. The leather to go when attacked by Thomas' Eclectric tacings for a pair of mittens went further to confirm the bellef that whoever the man may be his body was clad for Winter weather at the time of his death. Among the other effects found were a razor and Langshoro, Susq. Co., Pa., Oct. 1 1883.

Mr. Phelps—Dear sir: I have been trying your Rheumatic Elixir and find it the very best thing I ever came across. Prof. J. N. Gardner, of your city, recommended to confirm the bellef that whoever the man strop, shaving mug, satchel frame securely locked, and two bottles, one a pocket flask and the other a two-ounce vial such as Mr. Garrick Mallery and Mr. H. F. Glenn laudanum is usually sold in. The man attended the funeral of Thos. Dickson in must have been 6 feet tall, with a low, receding forehead. His right leg had been broken at one time at the thigh. How ong the bones had lain exposed is not known. Their bleached condition would indicate several years. It is remarkable that they were not found before from their close proximity to the road. -Shickshinny
